The rapidity with which the Engine Commany No. 4, on Sycamore street, can hitch up their horses, under the new system of stabling, is a surprise to all. To-day at noon, when 12 o'clock was sounded, the horses were hitched up before the bells had done striking. This new plan is principally owing to the ingenuity of the Chief and his assistants, and is constructed so that by the simple pulling of a string the doors of the stable fly open, the horses are unloosened at the halter, and beings trained take their regular positions immediately. Over half the engine companies in this city are now provided with these kind of stables, and for the others they are rapidly being constructed.

FREDERICK WILLIAM LUDWIG, ESQ., the prominent merchant tailor of Newport, Ky., was this morning united in matrimony to Mrs. Mary Ziogler, President of the St. Monica's Ladies' Association. The marringe ceremonies took place af St. Ludwie's Church—the pastor, Rev. E. Windthorst, officiating. The church was beautifully decorated in honor of the occasion, and a solemn high mass was read, after which an appropriate sermon was delivered. The matrimonial ceremonies then took place, Messrs Peter Leindecker and Chas. Deerner acting as groomsmen, and Mrs. Kate Leindecker and Miss Susan Buck as bride's maids. The wedding festivities took place at the house of the bride, on Clarkson and Bank streets, and the afternoon and evening will be spent in gaiety at Fisher's Grove, on the Harrison pike. The happy couple, after a short wedding trio in other cities, will return to their home in Newport.

bus, and others, will be present.

Two Alarms of fire were sent in this morning about 2 o'clock from box 132. The fire started in the rear of a frame house, No. 179 Hopkins street, west of Linn, and the building was entrely destroyed. The house on the west, owned by Mrs. Brier, was badly damaged and all the tenants driven out. The loss amounts to about $3,0.0. Of the families driven out were those of Benjamin Luken, Barney Herzog, Mrs. Kabermann, Barney Cramer and Mr. Robello.

Officer Kidney found an old man last night OFFICER KIDNEY found an old man last night

OFFICER KIDNEY found an old man last night near the Suspension bridge in a bewildered state of mind. He gave his name as Clark Jewell, and stated that he had worked for twenty-five years in Hall's safe and lock factory, but could give no account of how he got to the river or where he lived. The officer referred to the Directory and found that he lived at 147 Cutter street and conducted him to his home.

MESSES. MUNSON AND GROSSICS were the only members present for the regular semi-Messes. Musson and Grossics were the only members present for the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the City Work-house. The Committee appointed to investigate the charges against Dr. Querner, of having burned one of the prisoners because he would not work, have prepared their report and will present it at the next meeting. They unanimously and unreservedly exonorate Br. Querner from the charges.

By some hook or crook, the gamblers fail to be prosecuted or punished in the Police Court, it will be remembered that last week a Missourian was roped in to a faro game and relieved of a considerable sum of money. Thos. Bilton, P. Coleman, Henry Rhenick, J. S. Shrewsbury and James Newman were the parties arrested. They applied for a continuance on their first day of trial, which was granted, and it seems that they did this to wear out the patience of the prosecuting witness, who would in all probability not be able to stay in this city so long. They succoded, as he was not present to prosecute them. The whole gang was accordingly dismissed. The Police Court is a grand failure in bringing gamblers to punishment.

A Handsome Present. Mr. I. N. LaBoyteaux, of Duhme & Co., has ust received from Recifoot Lake, Tennessee, the handsome present of a pair of wild gees completely domesticated. They were captured when but a few weeks old, and have been raised with great care. No prettier pair of birds were ever brought to this city. They attracted great attention this morning and were universally admired. He will take them to his home at College Hill this evening.

The National Agriculturis's.

The National Agricultural Congress is to convene to-morrow in the parlors of the Grand Hotel. Delegates are to-day arriving from different parts of the country, and the prosdifferent parts of the country, and the prospects are that the session will be an interesting and profitable one. It continues during three days. The session is to be devoted to addresses and discussions on Political Economy in its special relations to agricultural production and distribution of agricultural products; Education, for operation and legislation for, by or concerning farmers and agriculture: Transportation, linance and taxation as affecting agricultural property. Addresses will be delivered by representative men from the North, South, East and West.

WOOD'S THEATER. - Haverly's Minstrels opened to a good house last evening. The performance taken all in all is, if anything, a great improvement upon their recent entertainments in this city. Primrose and West were immense and were honored by frequent effectes. George Wilson twirled the tambowne with his usual dexterrity and sang his comic dities to the delight of everyone. But the star of the evening was Mit. Barlow, probably the noest delimentor of the old plantation darkey that ever appeared on any stage. The songe of "Old Black Joe," and "The Little Old Cabin in the Lane," have become almost the exclusive property of Mr. Barlow, and whether he sings the one or the other he is sure to bring down the house. The same programme is announced for this evening.

for this evening.

The Grand Opera-House.—The Vokes Family filled the Grand last evening. From parquett to gallery, there was not a vacant seat. The grant comic speciality the "Beiles of the Kitchen." was rendered as only the Vokes can render it. The audience were in the bost of apirits, seeming in the humor to be pleased, and they were not disappointed, for the Vokes could make a man with the lock-jaw open his mouth and laugh. The "Belles of the Kitchen" again to night.

ROBINSON'S OPERA-HOUSE.—Mr. Robert Mc-Wade appeared at this house last evening in his own version or dramatization of Irving's beautiful sketch of "Rip Van Winkle." Ar. McWade, in the face of every opposition and the slur of "Imitator," has succeeded in making this part as much his own as did Jefferson himself—and mdeed in some of the more pathetic scenes he is believed by some to even surpass this great actor. Lass evening, supported as he was by an excellent company, he gave a ftip Van Winkle that none but the great, original will over excel.
